

VAASTU TIPS

PLOT & HOUSE

VAASTU is a traditional Indian system of architecture. Our rishis and gurus have identified the secrets behind using all elements of this universe and their special characteristics and influences such as gravity, magnetic fields of Earth, Sky, Wind, Sun, Rain, Fire etc. to plan construction. And this science of construction helps in enhancing health, wealth, prosperity in turn happiness

HOUSE CONSTRUCTION

INSIDE HOUSE

OUTSIDE HOUSE

Important points

- The kitchen should not be in line with Main Door.
- South East corner of the room is best for Electrical Installations. Keep no broken mirrors in the house.
- Mirrors, sinks, wash -basins and taps should preferably be along the North -East walls and they should not be any leakage from taps.
- The Safe/ Money store be along south or the west facing North or East
- The toilet seat should preferably be along the North - South axis. The septic tank can be in the North- West or the South East corner of the house.
- Avoid having garbage dump, street -light pole, or boulders in front of the main gate or door.
- Your main door should not be opposite the main door of opposite house.
- Students should study facing the north or east. Do not sit or sleep under a beam.
- Do not hang frames of war, crime, unrest, agony or distress.
- Do not have any cactus in the house. Having it outside the boundary is good.
- Do not have a toilet or a puja room under a staircase or South west corner
- Do not Block North -east portion of the house or industry.
- In an industry any fault, ditch or broken part in the direction of north - east will get unrest to the industrialist.
- Improper position of the bedroom/bed brings unhappiness in the married life and causes disturbed sleep.
- Having a toilet/fireplace in north - east corner of the house or industry can ruin it financially besides mental tension & quarrel amongst people.
- Finished products are to be kept in the North West corner. It would help quick movements of the stock & early recovery thereof.
- A water body or source should be in the east or North - east of the plot. Having a water body in the south - east /south position of the house can cause damage to the male child/wife of the owner. A under -ground water tank in South - West can be fatal to the head of the family or owner of the industry.

- More open space in North or East gives name, fame and prosperity. Leaving more space on the South -West side in the house can affect the male members badly; whereas in industry it leads to financial loss and quarrel amongst partners.
- Depression in the South -West can result in to a serious illness to the habitants, whereas depression in north -west causes enmity and litigation. The depression in south portion of the building restricts growth besides financial problems.
- Extension in the South -West may result in loss of health, loss of money and other insurmountable problems, whereas an extension in South -East may lead to fire. Accidents, theft, and court litigation.
- Heavy machinery has to be installed in South, West and South -West in the factory.
- Transformers, generators, motors, boilers, furnaces, oil -engines etc. should be kept in South -East or southern portion of the plot/building.
- Central space is better left open or used for rituals.
